The proprietary formulation for the products referenced above has been analyzed from a point of view of ingredients which are considered Halal as to Islamic food guidelines. The products are Halal and suitable for sale, distribution and human consumption by Muslim consumers.

As proprietary products, an ingredient list is required for review by I.S.A. and must be obtained only from and through Shaklee Corporation. The responsibility of Islamic Services of America, as a recognized body, is to evaluate ingredients, which make up a product and certify the product as Halal.

This is not an export certificate. Each export order will be issued a designated Certificate for the product detailing quantity, number of cartons and weight. Each export Certificate is given a specific Certificate number and date.

Certificate is valid through December 31, 2012 and subject to renewal at that time.

The products listed above are manufactured for Shaklee Corporation by manufacturing facilities that are inspected, approved and certified by I.S.A.
