CoQ-Trol Plus

Power Up Your Energy

Coenzyme Q₁₀ is an essential component for energy production in the cell. It is found in the mitochondrion, the cell's energy powerhouse. Coenzyme Q₁₀ is highly concentrated in the cells of our brain, heart and liver. It converts fats and sugar into usable energy throughout the day. It is also a potent antioxidant, protecting cells from free radical damage. However, coenzyme Q₁₀ levels decrease as we age and the use of statin to lower cholesterol further deplete Coenzyme Q₁₀ levels in our body.
